Introduction to QR-Based POS Systems

The QR-Based Point of Sale (POS) system represents a modern evolution in dining technology, designed to replace traditional, static kiosks with a more dynamic and accessible solution. By leveraging mobile technology, this system allows customers to take control of their dining experience by simply scanning a unique QR code located at their table. This action instantly connects the user to a digital menu, enabling them to browse and place orders directly from their own devices.

Beyond simplifying the ordering process, the system enhances operational efficiency by automatically linking the customer's digital order to their specific table number. This allows food service staff to deliver orders directly to the designated table generated by the app, ensuring accuracy and reducing wait times for a more seamless service flow.
